“ Only a few in this world get to experience the love and joy of having an Aunt that loves you, like your mother does. Aunt Anita always had welcoming hugs that made life just seem better no matter how dark of a season you was going threw. A hug when you said goodbye for the night that made you feel like you could conjure the world, and sometimes it just seemed like every word that came between those two hugs were the words that God was speaking threw her. I have way to many memories to share with everyone, So I will just leave you with this, I hope everyday that I walk a little better on my path of life, and chose to show love and speak the words that are laid on my heart, just like Aunt Anita has shown me time and time and how she would want each and everyone of us to do
