“ Today marks five year since Causey has died. Not a day goes by I wonder if you would be proud of me. You took care of me, you made sure I was mentally okay for years, I truly miss you and you were the best person and friend I could ever have. You weren't just a teacher to me. You were my bestfriend. I hope you're well.

“ Brandon was a wonderful teacher. Our daughter had him many years ago in the 4th grade. I spent a great deal of time watching him interact with the class and had many conversations with him over the years. He cared so deeply for his students and had a real gift for teaching. His gifts will live on through all of those he taught. RiP to a very kind soul.

“ Causey was always a wonderful man, that would always lend a shoulder if you needed to cry, or needed to tell your issues too and he would give you the best advice possible. I had him in 3rd grade and my 8th grade year. He made my life shine and he played an important part and role in it. Love you forever, Mr. Causey.

“ Brandon was one of the kindest, most generous, compassionate, and caring individuals that it had ever been my privilege to know. His care for his students was always an inspiration for his fellow teachers, and he had a way of making all of his friends and students feel special, valued, and loved. His light will always shine brightly in the hearts of the many who love him, until we meet again.

“ No words can express the impact, change, and inspiration that Brandon brought into the lives he touched. Mr. Causey was an outstanding advocate for his students, a role model for aspiring educators, and always shared a contagious smile with friends. May we all continue to let his light shine and carry on his kindness and love.

“ Mr. Causey was a very understanding, amazing 8th reading teacher. He never judged us, and we could talk to him about anything no matter if it was personal or we just needed someone that understood, he always could help. His 9th period 8th grade class was definitely his favorite. You will be missed by so many. Rest In Peace. Until we meet again🕊️
