“ Rest In Peace, Clarence. I was with the class of 1953 at Jackson High School, and enjoyed Clarence's art class and skating with him at the Cavalier Roller Rink when we were young. He was a gentleman and a friend. God Bless Betty Jo

“ So sorry to hear about Mr. Rice's passing. I learned a lot about art from him when I had him way back when. We served on the Southern Hills Art Council together. He will be missed

“ Clarence was an exceptional teacher, mentor and human being. He truly did teach more than art - he taught his students to appreciate life and not just let it pass you by. That you can keep the art of life with you if you just keep your eyes and mind open. One of kind! My sorrow is for those that did not get to learn from him.

“ To finish my teaching degree I traveled to Jackson from Athens everyday for a semester and received the introduction of teaching from the best. I was not the first but I remember his guidance through out the whole time... This was in the early 80s. He guided me thru the waves of choices of administrators, students and curriculum. Under his guidance I had a 30 year career which I profoundly grateful for him being himself and all that he gave to strangers who quickly became his friends. I remember the smile I received at the end of my time shared with him. He was worried that I was off to teach in the depths of the inner city but he smiled and said I will be fine and I was.

“ I graduated from JHS with the class of '73. I remember I had Mr. Rice for Art Class I think in my Junior year. I have fond memories of that time. What very little artistic talent I might have had Mr. Rice helped me discover that and I still remember string sculptures and water color paintings. He was a good man with a ready smile and always willing to help. God Speed, Mr. Rice!

“ One of the best teachers and friend I ever had. He was a person I looked up to and will never forget him.
