“ Thinking of my sister this morning. As children she would do anything to get out of house chores, outside climbing a tree in our side yard or inside watching cartoons. She was a wonderful cook and baker. I called her “Betty Crocker”. I told my friends anyone could go to her home and she would have a complete meal on the table within a very short time. When our children were small we spent a lot of happy times together when life was much simpler. Johnny, remember our trip to the Smokies and all the bubbles in the tub?? We laughed a lot, Diana always made things fun. Till we meet again....

“ Aunt Diana was like a second mother to me. The dirt path to her house was used by me very often. I don't believe there was ever a time that she didn't offer a baked goodie when entering her home. The memories that I have include sitting and visiting, prayers, hugs, braiding of my hair, family get-togethers, working in tobacco, and food of course! She crocheted baby blankets and stockings for my kids which still hang every year along our mantle. What a privilege to be a part of her life. The amazing thing about her life is that it's not over, it is only beginning for her eternity in Heaven, and because of Christ I get to see her again!
