Love you Uncle Jack...now you are young and healthy once again. We mourn your transition but I am pretty sure you are rejoicing with God right now. I will miss you but am assured I will see you again. Thank you for making my life happier just by being part of it. I have lots and lots of fun memories of you, and many of my favorites were at the house you and Aunt Audrey built on the top of the hill. Going up the hill to get to the house is something I will never forget. We had to park at the bottom in the winter because it was too steep and slippery for us to park near the house.that black topped driveway seemed OH so long to this young girl. It seemed like a long walk to the top but we were always excited to see you and everyone.
