“ I can't believe I'll never go to another baseball game with Jimmy again. As much as he'll be missed by his friends, I can only imagine how much he'll be missed by his family. I'm so sorry all of you are going through the loss of a wonderful man who wanted nothing more than living his life on his terms, which he did. I've known Jimmy since we attended school together starting in the 7th grade and, God, I'll miss him so much. Such a great, great man! To quote the message he left on my chalkboard the last time he was here, "Make air, not war" Love, Andres

“ After "meeting" air guitarists on FB I was told about JD and as soon as we touched base he was generous and encouraging and was genuinely interested in everyone. Though we never met in RL I felt like I would've given and received a big hug. He really will be missed. Just the other night he was so happy to be listening to a new record album. He took great pride (this was obvious just from short conversations) in creativity and was always interested in others. In an age when people can become easily distracted I got the sense that he was truly there for friend and stranger. Really I am so sorry for your loss and can just remember chatting about Finland with him

May the Grace of God heal your hearts.

“ RIP J.D. Sally I knew J.D. Since second grade. My biggest memory was the endless imaginary roads he drew. I don't know if you remember me, my sister and you played room mother at some of our elementary parties. My deepest condolences to the entire family. J.D.s intelligence and wit will be missed.

“ I had the honor of having J.D. as an employee with the Los Angeles Dodgers, and, more importantly, calling him a friend. J.D., as an employee, was a hard worker, who gave everything he had to each task set before him. He was a wonderful Stadium Tours guide, sharing his love of baseball with the fans who were fortunate to take his tour. I remember setting up a day at a mini-golf course, to give my employees a chance to relax and have some fun, and J.D. showed up with his own putter. That made us all laugh, but we laughed with J.D., because that was so him. I am so sorry to hear of his family's loss. Just know that he will be missed.

“ RIP JD, you were a one of a kind guy. You were a friend to all and had such an awesome sense of humor. We haven't seen each other since high school but glad we were able to stay in touch on FB and I enjoyed reading the posts and chatting with you. Sending my deepest condolences to your family.
