“ Josh, you are my cousin, but you were more like a little brother to me. You were also 1 of my best friends! It completely broke my heart when I found out that you were gone. When we were younger, we would always hang out in the field below my house wasting time, listening to music, talkin' bout anything & everything and goofing off cause we couldn't sleep. We would skateboard & ride bikes together! And we both knew that if 1 of us had something heavy on our hearts that we could talk about it with the other 1 and we'd offer up advice or whatever was needed in that moment and it would never go beyond us if we said plz don't say anything! I'm truly going to miss you bro, fly high. You always were one of the greats in my story, it seems as though all my greats are headed home! Love you cuz and I'll always remember you! My condolences Dennis & Tiffany, Aunt Pauline & Uncle Jim

“ My deepest sympathy for Josh's family, children & friends. Josh, I'll always cherish my memories with you. All the fun & laughs we all had. No matter what you were always nice, funny & respectful. I never had to worry about what kind of person you were to me. Until we meet again my friend 😔

“ You were born on the 19th and me 3 days later. You were the first person that asked me to run away from home when we were 5, I think we made it to the end of your road in Coalton. I remember the trains you played with that I have now bought to play with my boys. We took different paths, but I will always still think about you when my birthday is, because it will always be right after yours. I would still play Ninja Turtles or Nintendo anytime you want man. I will always love you, no matter how anyone else remembers or feels about it. I was hoping there was time to get together again when all the wild oats were gone for both of us, but I'll tell you all about it when I see you again.
