“ Keith was my younger brother’s best friend back in the day and quite a loving and amazing person to myself. I knew him only momentarily but this sums it up to me, loyalty and love for the ones whom he cared about most. To me those traits are priceless and his memory to me is just that, priceless! Rest in peace Big Homie. Holler boys NEVER really die, they just move onto the next mission, may that mission help many others along the way!
