

Lorraine W. Sutton

June 5, 1928 - January 31, 2018

June Lorraine Wisenberger Sutton — Lorraine Sutton, 89, of Franklin Furnace, died Wednesday, January 31, at the SOMC Hospice Center in Portsmouth. She was born in Ironton June 5, 1928, to Leslie Edward and Ruth Tobert Wisenberger. A longtime resident of New Boston, she served the local community for many years as a registered nurse in private practice for Dr. Milton Levine and at the former Scioto Memorial Hospital. Upon retiring from nursing, she worked as a medical transcriptionist for Dr. David Provaznik of Wheelersburg. She was an avid lover of nature and the outdoors, eager to learn all she could about wild animals, birds, trees, and leaves and spend time in their natural habitats. Her travels in the wilderness took her from the swamps of the Okefenokee and Everglades to the tundra of Alaska, where she felt most at home in a tent or sleeping under the skies. She was an accomplished knitter, a lifelong member of the Methodist church, a keen dog-lover, and a loving and devoted wife, mother, and grandmother.

She was preceded in death by her late husband, Harold Richard Sutton of New Boston. She is survived by her sister, Elinor Brown of Rittman; three children, her daughter, Marilyn Burke and husband, J.D. of New Boston, her daughter, Barbara Morris of Franklin Furnace, and her son, Richard and wife, Sue of North Royalton; four grandchildren, her grandson, Jeffrey Morris of Franklin Furnace, her granddaughter, Jennifer Morris of Baltimore, her grandson, Chad Sutton and wife, Rachelle of Chicago, and her granddaughter, Kristen of Denver; and two step-grandchildren, her step-granddaughter, Denise Burke of Waco, Texas, and her step-grandson, Jason Brown and wife, Shelley of Jackson.

A funeral service for the family will be held at 11 a.m. on Saturday, February 10, at the First United Methodist Church in Ashland. Memorial contributions may be made in her honor to SOMC Hospice.

Arrangements are under the direction of the Mayhew-Brown Funeral Home and Southern Ohio Cremation Services in Jackson, Ohio.
