“ There are so many memories that run together though out my life with Mom that it's hard to share one memory. The quality that that Mom displayed throughout her life not just with me but with many was patience. Music was always a part of our life growing up on the farm and she started with me at a young age. I remember sitting in front of the long stereo and Walt Disney records would be playing and We sang along with all Characters. From Snow White to Bare Rabbit. To listen to them over and over. Patience. Also every one knows mom was a lady of hospitality. Always welcome all, at any hour. Feed you, most likely biscuits and gravy to start. If you stayed long enough you got chicken noodles at some point. She baby sat so many kids over the years that many kids learned the rules: Zip your coat, wear your seat belt along with all the other safety alerts. Growing up with music she reminds me of several songs..Dad would sing Baby's got her blue jeans on. Mine ♡ She is an Eagle when she flies ..

Memories now are all we have ,so grateful to have sweet memories of a sweet sister. Remembering the little things about you the way you always looked like you had a manicure with your long painted nails and remembering how you would iron your work clothes and used your nails so close to the iron I was always afraid you were going to get burnt , or the little brown organ that you would always tell dad to let me play , picking you up from work late at night but I always wanted to go with daddy to get you. Many more memories like the summer nights playing at your house and riding in the back of the truck ! I will always cherish my memories of you ,THANKYOU for being a great big sister love and miss you always..... TERESA
