“ Stella once told me that I was like one of the grandkids and could call her MiMi. From that day forward she was never Stella she was in fact MiMi. She was one of the greatest people I have ever met. I am so happy to have gotten to know her and have her in my life. She was such a sweet soul! I will never forget each and every smile she put on my face or the laugh that she would let out if I did something silly. She will forever be in my heart and the heart of everyone that knew her. To have known her was to love her there was no stopping it. My heart goes out to all that knew her. She will be missed dearly.
